Family Involvement

A report titled, A New Wave of Evidence: The Impact of School, Family and Community Connections on Student Achievement, published in 2002 by Anne Henderson and Karen Mapp is a comprehensive literature review describing the influence of family and community engagement on student achievement.

According to the results, there is a positive and convincing relationship between family involvement and benefits for students, including improved academic achievement. This relationship holds across families of all economic, racial/ethnic and educational backgrounds and for students at all ages.

Responsiveness of parents/guardians to communication regarding students:
